

NORTHWEST MARTIAL ARTS PRESENTS...

RORY MILLER

Violence & Use-of-Force Law

Saturday, October 23, 2010 10am-5pm

Sunday, October 24, 2010 10am-5pm

Day One or Day Two: $100

Both Day One and Day Two: $150

Day 1 lecture on self-defense law only: $40

If you are unclear on the legal ramifications of using force, you owe it to yourself and your students to attend this lecture!

Rory Miller has worked as a Corrections Officer and Tactical Team Leader. He has taught law enforcement personnel, martial artists and soldiers skills from physical defense to crisis communication - from the West Coast to Baghdad.

He is the author of Meditations on Violence - A Comparison of Martial Arts Training & Real World Violence. This is real-world self-defense: what happens before, during, and after the fight. You don't want to miss this one.

Location: Northwest Martial Arts
18102 102nd Ave NE
Bothell, WA 98011

Day 1: Suite #105 Day 2: Suite #101
Corner of Main St and 102nd Ave

Day One will cover:

The seven elements of self-defense
Efficient movement
Fighting to the goal
Predator and violence dynamics
Counter-ambush
Movement/pain/damage/shock

And...available as a separate lecture:
Self-defense law! (10/23 @11am)

Day Two will cover:

Environmental fighting
Ground brawling

Questions?

rory@easystreet.net

info@nwmawa.com

For more information and to register: <http://chirontraining.com/Site/Seattle-October.html>